Chapter 1

The Story Journey to Mikazuki

There was a small family who had endured a year full of stress and conflicts. The father, wanting to ease the tension, booked a vacation for the entire family to Vietnam. As soon as his phone beeped with the notification "Booking Successful," he could hardly believe his eyes. The magical ticket slowly emerged from the phone and gently landed on the floor. A glowing message appeared on the ticket.

"Follow the Paper Crane, it will lead you to the most precious forgotten treasure!"

As they stepped off the plane, they stood in front of the Torii Gate. Mikagon, a cheerful little dragon with shimmering wings, appeared.

"Welcome to the Land of Happiness, Mikazuki, where all dreams come true!"

The family entered a snowy garden, illuminated by neon lights and twinkling lanterns. This was a world where Japanese fairy tales came to life, and the magic was palpable. The children hummed joyfully, while the parents quietly followed Mikagon, neither looking at the other.

They entered the lobby, which was decorated with vibrant lights. Here, Japanese folklore came alive, and the air was filled with a sense of wonder.

In the blink of an eye, the whole family found themselves on a plane. The wife, still confused, continued to scold her husband for making such impulsive decisions. Meanwhile, the children excitedly looked out the window and shouted:

"Mom, there are paper cranes flying outside!"

Suddenly, the plane passed through a ring of blue fire, transporting the family into the Land of Happiness, Mikazuki.

“ Mikagon led them to a Christmas buffet at Nippon Ballroom. The spread was a blend of traditional Japanese and Western dishes. Grilled lobster, sashimi, and Wagyu beef - delicacies they had never experienced - were served in a magical food station.

Next to them, a live band was playing soft music, while a cheerful Santa Claus and a funny balloon clown played with the children. Suddenly, with a loud bang, the lights went out, and a strange Japanese sound filled the room. The stage lights quickly turned on, and a beautiful Japanese performance began, amazing everyone. With graceful dances and songs full of Japanese culture, this Christmas night became more memorable than ever!

“ After the feast, Mikagon took them to a Christmas pool party. The children played happily under the falling snowflakes, while the parents sat together quietly, sipping their drinks.

Mikagon softly said to them:

"Sometimes, family love needs time to rest, to listen, and to feel. Look at your children's joy, and remember the happiness you shared when you were young."

The parents looked at each other, and slowly, they began to laugh. All the tension they had felt seemed to melt away.
